Streetwise Provence Map - Laminated Regional Road Map Of Provence, France

Synopsis

Streetwise Provence Map - Laminated Regional Road Map of Provence, France - Folding pocket size travel map This map covers the following areas: Main Provence Map 1:280,000 Take a journey of the senses to a place of outstanding natural beauty, sumptuous food, elegant wines, magical towns, compelling terrain, sunny climate and proud, friendly people. The place you are going to visit is called Provence, and you will never forget it! First buy a STREETWISE[®] map of Provence. Then you can start your trip in Avignon, where a full day is needed to walk within the old walls and see Le Palais des Papes and the Pont St Bénézet. Continue traveling west on the N100, toward Remoulins to see the stunning Pont du Gard. Afterward drive up D981 past rolling lavender fields to Uzès for a tour of the still inhabited feudal duchy. If it's market day, the town will be packed and you can wander through the stalls of impeccable fruits, vegetables, cheeses, olives and flowers. Next, drive south towards the city of Nîmes, home to the stunning Roman Amphitheatre and the origin of denim (serge de Nîmes). Move on taking the D999 east towards Beaucaire and Tarascon both on the Rhone River. Continue on the D99- go slowly- because you are about to enter one of the most beautiful towns in all of France --St. Remy-de-Provence. Find a small cafe to relax and watch the bon chic-bon genre pass by as you sip your grande crème. Spend a day or a lifetime in this charming and ultra hip town. Back on the road, pick up the small D27 found on our STREETWISE[®] map of Provence (see grid J-K8) and head for Les-Baux with a stop at Le Paradou for lunch. Now take D5 north to D99 and head east through Cavaillon, and look for the D938 toward Isle sur la Sorgue - and watch out for bicyclists from Butterfield and Robinson! This is the place to shop for antiques. We are not done yet. Heading south to the N100 then D103 is where you'll find Mâconnerbes, made famous by Peter Mayle's book, A Year in Provence. Get a delicious dinner and a good night's rest in Mâconnerbes, for there is much more that awaits you in Provence. Tomorrow perhaps Lacoste for breakfast at an outdoor café then a hike up the hill and see the remains of the Chateau where the Marquis de Sade once lived. Or Roussillon, home of ancient ochre quarries, where the saturated hues of apricot, brick and mustard yellow glow against the clear blue Provencal sky. Maybe Gordes, perched on a hilltop with the Luberon Valley stretched out before you. Whatever itinerary you choose, take your time. Provence is meant to be enjoyed slowly. With our STREETWISE[®] Provence Map you'll be free to wander wherever your senses lead you. Our pocket size map of Provence is laminated for durability and accordion folding for effortless use. The STREETWISE[®] Provence map is one of several detailed and easy-to-read regional road maps designed and published by STREETWISE[®]. Buy your STREETWISE[®]

'Don't leave home without STREETWISE.' --The New York Times'STREETWISE is an absolute travel essential.' --Travel + Leisure Magazine'In a strange city, your sense of direction is only as good as the map in your hands. The best maps to carry are published by STREETWISE.' --Chicago Daily Herald

STREETWISE® is the first map to be designed with modern graphics and is the originator of the laminated, accordion-fold map format. We've set the standard that every map company has imitated but never duplicated. Our mission is to make you feel comfortable, to make you feel safe in a place where you've never been before and to enable you to experience a familiar place more fully. The company was founded in 1984 by Michael Brown, who had been in international publishing for many years, setting up subsidiaries for textbook publishers. In the 1970s, Brown traveled extensively throughout Africa, India, the Middle East and Southeast Asia. Brown would take a large paper map, cut out the city center, folded it up and slip it into his pocket, thus preventing him from looking like a tourist in areas where discretion is the better part of travel. This was his tool for surviving. After many years on the road, Brown settled back in New York and decided to start his own business, based on the adaptations he had made to maps in his travels. His goal was to give someone the ability to navigate easily in unfamiliar terrain. He started with a new map format: the accordion fold. Such a simple idea, but at the time it was revolutionary. No more struggling to fold an awkward, oversized paper map. This new format would enable the user to blend in like a native, instead of stick out like a tourist. Brown then added lamination to ensure that the map would be a lasting tool. More important than the format was the design of the map itself. It had to be a map that not only succeeded above and beyond any map he had used, but was esthetically appealing as well. The look of it had to be as striking as the functionality. Color was introduced in a way that was never seen before in a map - vivid purple for water, soothing gray for the background of street grids, gold to highlight elements of the map. Clarity, conciseness and convenience in a very stylish package. Building the business was a 24 hour job. Brown sold the maps during the day, zipping around Manhattan making deliveries on his Harley Davidson. At night he packed the orders and did the design work. More titles were added, each title requiring months of research and design. Today, STREETWISE[®] produces over 130 titles for major destinations, regions and countries throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, Australia, Europe, the United Kingdom and Asia. We have grown from the back of a motorcycle to selling millions of maps around the world. Yet each title is still painstakingly researched and updated. STREETWISE[®] is one of the only, if not THE only map company that conducts research by walking or driving an area to ensure accuracy. After all, what good is the map if what you hold in your hands doesn't match what you see on the street sign? This lengthy fact checking results in superior accuracy; in effect, we've done the work, now you have the adventure. In the end, it's not about the map, it's about getting out and finding your own authentic experience wherever you go. It's about being in a city or a region and discovering things that you never thought you would find. You can do this if you have confidence and you have confidence if you have a great map. STREETWISE[®] is the great map that you need.

Great little travel map. I have a number of the Streetwise line of maps. If you have older eyes, get a small magnifying device.

Love these maps! So easy to read and use.

This map is stiff and substantial without being heavy. Shows everything, lots of detail, so should really help on our upcoming trip. Folds up to a nice handy size.

Perfect for our needs

This map is a joke. It doesn't cover all of Provence. Will be tossed. I usually love these maps.

Its title would indicate that it is a street map of areas in Provence. In fact it turns out to be a regional road map with no street detail. When I saw it on your web site it did not give details of what was included. I have used "Streetwise....." for other cities and they were good. I was disappointed in this Streetwise map. At the same time I had purchased a Michelin road map of Provence (527) which gave me more detail.

Map has no detail, just a portion of a regional map. Overview only. Left it home when I traveled to Provence. Get Michelin map or buy map locally after you arrive.

As others have said, the title would suggest some level of detail at the street level, which this map does not provide. Save your money. Don't buy this map.
