Customer Reviews

Pippi is an irrepressible, irreverent, and irrefutably delightful girl who lives alone (with a monkey) in her wacky house, Villa Villekulla. When she's not dancing with the burglars who were just trying to rob her house, she's attempting to learn the "pluttification" tables at school; fighting Adolf, the strongest man in the world at the circus; or playing tag with police officers. Pippi's high-spirited, good-natured hijinks cause as much trouble as fun, but a more generous child you won't find anywhere. Astrid Lindgren has created a unique and lovable character, inspiring generations of children to want to be Pippi. More than anything, Pippi makes reading a pleasure; no child will welcome the end of the book, and many will return to Pippi Longstocking again and again. Simply put, Pippi is irresistible. "A rollicking story."--The Horn Book

I loved this book as a little girl and I'm excited my daughter will be getting it in her Easter basket this year. I would have given this book 5 stars without a doubt, but the front cover of the book was torn. So that was disappointing, but a little tape will fix it.

I just started reading Pippi to my 5 year old and she is HOOKED. Her first real chapter book and every night she's ready for me to read the very next chapter. She can't wait to learn to read "properly" so that she can enjoy the text for herself, in the meantime we're having loads of fun laying in bed together and chuckling over the antics of that mischievous redhead!

I read these when I was in school. My 5 year old loves me reading to her.

My daughters love reading about Pippi and her unique view of the world. This is a great bedtime book as each chapter reads as a story all its own. My 6 year old loves Pippi so much that she dressed as her for "Dress as Your Favorite Character Day" at school. This book should be in every family's collection, especially if you have little girls like I do.

Every child should have this book in their library. My eight year old likes this book. Pippi was a classic for me when I was younger Fav book and the DIL was happy I gave this to my grand daughter. It's always important to buy books the parents like/used to love since they are the ones helping with the kid's reading! :) great shipping!

I read this book when I was little, a classic! I was born in '77, I don't think kids today read the awesome books from when I was a kid. So if I have to buy a kid a present, I will generally go to books that I loved as a kid, hoping they haven't read them yet. This book is so imaginative. The child will get lost in this story. A girl, living on her own, solving her own problems, seeing her dad occasionally when he comes in from sea. Maybe it will help kids appreciate all their parents do for them.

I always loved reading Pippi longstocking books to my kids and they always loved the books. I got this one to read to my granddaughter and she also loves Pippi. I think this is a great children's book read.
