Perfect for an explorative weekend...loaded with facts and statistics...detailed maps, far more specific than most...GPS coordinates. -- Emily Leone, Daily Courier, July 8, 2006

Donna Ruff has traveled extensively, following her passion for the outdoors and the environments and cultures of the world. A graduate of the University of Pittsburgh, she makes her living as a freelance writer and editor and small business owner, writing and managing technical publications. A Pittsburgh resident, her interests have led her to many countries, but she enjoys the diversity and beauty of Southwestern Pennsylvania.

Very neatly organized. I love that the author took the time to categorize the hikes into different groups which allows you to quickly identify scenic hikes, or hikes with overlooks, or hikes that are a specific distance. Definitely worth having if you live in the area and like to get outdoors.

I purchased this book when we moved to Pittsburgh. We are avid hikers and wanted to make sure we didn't miss out great hikes. We've used this multiple times and have never been disappointed.

Clearly written by someone who knows the local trails. We have used this book to explore new areas to hike. We were surprised how many there were.

So excited to try all of these hikes.
