Steve McDonald is the bestselling author of Fantastic Cities and Fantastic Structures. A Canadian artist and lifelong traveller, he has lived in Italy, Saudi Arabia, India and Indonesia. He currently lives in Ontario, Canada.

If you're a Steve McDonald fan, you already own Fantastic Cities: A Coloring Book of Amazing Places Real and Imagined and you have a pretty good idea what's in this calendar. The drawings are the same size and on the same paper as the coloring books so you don't have to worry about this calendar being slick coated paper -- with the bonus that the back of the drawing page is the date-grid of the calendar page, so you don't have to worry about bleed-through mussing up the opposite drawing. (Of course your date-grid may be a little funky but if you are into FANTASTIC CITIES you will probably be able to live with it.) All the images in this 2018 calendar are from the Fantastic Cities coloring book, plus two new exclusive images just for this calendar. There are twelve drawings plus a bonus page of the last 4 months of 2017. So you have no excuse for not getting the calendar right now [in August 2017] because in a month you'll be able to track your Autumn 2017 on it, and on into 2018. If you haven't run into Steve McDonald before, these are his architectural drawings for coloring. They are just the right scale that you can take any number of directions with them - color them as cityscapes, add tons of detail, create sunrise, sunset, or night scenes, or take them into an abstract color field avenue. If you're getting this for someone else as a gift, this sort of openness with the coloring makes it accessible for almost anyone.
