Customer Reviews

Art Parma currently flies as captain for an international jet charter company. He holds type ratings in the Challenger 601 and Cessna Citation jets. He also holds instrument and multi-engine flight instructors ratings.

Best, simple, all in one, data in print, form of information. I pass these out to my advanced students as they are more appreciative of the information that is difficult to disseminate to the beginning student.

The best quick book to avoid 50% of ground school study time

My bf is learning to fly so I got him this little book and he loves it. He said it's FULL of useful information. He showed it to his flight instructor who was really impressed with it as well

Great little book to carry with you. Have referred to it many times in many places.

Very useful!!!

Pretty good information

Just what he needed.

This has good information in it, but it is in very small print and printed in this little tiny handbook. This is not as you may think, this is not a nice study book, rather it is a little reference book. I was VERY disappointed when these little things arrived, I felt cheated. The print is tiny!! Very amateurish publishing, you can tell this was done by some guy in his garage with his home computer.
