Customer Reviews

"The unbelievable, vibrant photography will pull you in, but the expert tips turn this book into a new plant parent's best friend. You'll be inseparable. You've been warned." - RedEye Chicago

EMMA SIBLEY has had a keen interest in horticulture from a young age and after studying Surface Design at university, her career moved into plants. She took a number of short courses to increase her knowledge and love of all things green. Emma now runs a growing start-up business called London Terrariums and offers workshops, interior displays and private commissions.

I love how this book is set up - it's easy to use, not alot of text, but makes some good points. It is missing a few succulents I would've expected to see in a book with 100 types but I still like it. Great little gift for the cacti lover.

Cute little coffee table book with very helpful information and nice pictures.
