Mark Novak was born in Praha, Czech Republic, in 1972. On his ninth birthday he was given his first fotocamera, a Praktica. Photography has been his passion ever since. Having specialized in professional beauty and commercial photography, he now commutes among Praha, London and Los Angeles.

Introduction: In photography, the genres are endless. There is everything from wholesome family portraits to gruesome forensic photography, beautiful landscape photography to modern fashion and lifestyle photography. Mixed in between, exists the beloved and sometimes controversial genre of nude photography. In nude photography, there are also a magnitude of subgenres such as black and white photography, snapshots and glamour, in addition to the genre featured in this book: Casting Photography. In order to participate in a nude photography shoot, models are normally selected through a casting process. At the casting, models file in to fill out a questionnaire and sign consent to the release of their images. The questionnaire is not the type of questionnaire one would typically find at other mainstream commercial castings. This one delves a bit more intimate, shall we say. These girls are asked about their favorite position, what acts they have already performed before the camera, what they are willing to do in front of the camera etc. To get a more detailed look at what really goes on behind the closed doors of the casting process, we let you peek at a reprint of an original casting form filled out by a model pitching for the job. Then, we journey behind the lens of Mark Novakâ™s camera as he displays casting photos from 50 different young, fresh, good looking models. Novak is known for his work with young beauties and his photos captured during these Model Castings reveal a new side to his artistic talent. Sit back, relax and enjoy your backstage pass to this exclusive, intimate viewing.

Very hot photos and all explicit. They each hide nothing. Buy it!
